Training Description

The design of Cross Cultural Competence (3-C) maximizes participant learning by featuring highly experiential learning activities, small group discussions, and engaging cross-cultural interactions.

The one and a half day workshop features multilingual, intercultural facilitators who have extensive international experience.

The video case study, A World of Difference, provides a framework for working with key cross cultural dimensions, exploring global teamwork, valuing and bridging differences, troubleshooting challenging cultural situations, and practicing mindfulness.

Learning Objectives

• Build successful global business relationships.
• Build a culturally competent global talent pipeline.

• Increase your ability to “leverage” cultural differences.
• Increase your organization’s effectiveness with global customers, suppliers, and partners.
